

Work happening in your area

Over the coming weeks, you may see our contractors in the area as we carry out archaeological trial trenching for East West Rail (EWR). This work helps us to design EWR in a responsible way, carefully planning to aim to avoid the most important heritage sites, and protecting and preserving the historic environment by identifying mitigation required for any heritage assets that we cannot avoid.

The team will be adhering to robust health and safety procedures and will work hard to minimise any disruption to communities.
